

Nicole Zech
Director of Excellent Individualized Education, LLC
Biography of Qualifications

Nicole is a veteran educator, who has been in the field for over 11 years. She is an enthusiastic post-graduate from the University of Florida, earning her Bachelor's degree in Elementary Education and her Master's degree in Literacy, while graduating in the top 5% of her class with a 3.95 GPA. Complementing her degrees, she enhanced her credentials with ESE and ESOL endorsements. Nicole is a certified Florida teacher holding a current Professional Certificate. In addition, Nicole is a certified Applied Behavioral Analyst Assistant, and is currently working towards completing the program to become a Master's Level Board Certified Behavior Analyst. She was a final nominee for the 2007 Teacher of the Year. In 2008, she created and founded Excellent Individualized Education, a unique educational consulting company that develops and implements specialized individual educational programs for private school settings. Programs include professional development and staff training, curriculum development, assisting schools through various accreditation processes, the administration of diagnostic assessments and individualized remediation programs for identified students. The motto of her company is, "Teaching the foundations to build solid educational excellence." Her personal motto is, "You are either ripe and rotting or green and growing," originally spoken by Roy Crock, but one that rings solidly clear with her strong desire to be a lifelong learner to continue to grow and evolve as an educator.
